

Providence St. Joseph Health

Providence St. Joseph Health Digital Commons

---

Articles, Abstracts, and Reports

---

1-1-2021

Editorial.

Jeffrey C Wang

Karsten Wiechert

Jens R Chapman

Swedish Neuroscience Institute, Swedish Medical Center, Seattle, WA, USA

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.psjhealth.org/publications>

Part of the Neuroscience and Neurobiology Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Wang, Jeffrey C; Wiechert, Karsten; and Chapman, Jens R, "Editorial." (2021). Articles, Abstracts, and Reports. 4242.

<https://digitalcommons.psjhealth.org/publications/4242>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by Providence St. Joseph Health Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Articles, Abstracts, and Reports by an authorized administrator of Providence St. Joseph Health Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@providence.org.

Editorial

Global Spine Journal
2021, Vol. 11(1) 5
© The Author(s) 2020
Article reuse guidelines:
sagepub.com/journals-permissions
DOI: 10.1177/2192568220967905
journals.sagepub.com/home/gsj

On behalf of the Global Spine Journal (GSJ) Editorial Board, I would like to wish everyone a Happy New Year. Last year was yet another year of tremendous growth for the journal. As Editor-in-Chief, it is such a pleasure to see the journal growing from year-to-year. Thinking back to where the journal started, with only 4 issues and having to reach out to people to fill up the issues, we now publish 8 issues and we have more submissions coming in with each month. Last year was again a successful year of growth for GSJ with a record number of submissions, citations and downloads. This is thanks to all of the hard work that goes into the journal from all of the Editors-in-Chief, Deputy Editors, the Managing Editor, AO Spine and SAGE Publications. It is this excellent partnership between the journal, the society and the publisher working together in symbiosis that leads to a strong and successful journal.

We hope that this year is yet another year of tremendous growth and change for GSJ. While we have come a long way, we still have a long way to go and there is always room for improvement. The GSJ team is working hard to make sure we continue to deliver a quality international journal to spine surgeons, practitioners, and researchers from around the world. Please look out for our annual GSJ survey, which will be deployed this month. This survey is your chance to let us know what work and how GSJ can improve. Your comments and insights are so beneficial in helping the journal continue to evolve and mature.

As I attend research meetings and view presentations from all over the world, I am consistently impressed by the increasing citations of key articles from the GSJ in presentations. As Editor-in-Chief there is no greater pride than seeing the journal getting recognition.

This year we will have more special issues on interesting topics as well as more cutting-edge systematic reviews from our ESBJ Special Section. We can't wait to show you all what we have in store for 2021, and make sure to stay updated with all the most recent GSJ news on social media.

Jeffrey C. Wang, MD

USC Spine Center, Los Angeles, CA, USA

Karsten Wiechert, MD

Schön-Klinik München Harlaching, Munich, Germany

Jens R. Chapman, MD

Swedish Neuroscience Institute,

Swedish Medical Center, Seattle, WA, USA

